

Secular Ambassador

What is it?

As a Secular Ambassador with SSA you will represent secularism and the Secular Student Alliance on your campus.

How do I become a Secular Ambassador?

Easy. Just tell us you want to be one.

What do I need to do?

1. Be a point of contact for SSA on your campus
 - Receive our newsletter and stay in touch with SSA programs that will benefit your campus culture.
 - Keep SSA staff informed about issues affecting secular students on your campus
2. Engage with campus organizing staff at SSA to brainstorm ways you can be an influence for secularism on your campus.
 - Join our monthly National Student Leader & Member zoom calls
 - Have a 1-1 conversation at least once a semester with your campus organizer to check in.
3. Keep an eye out for issues on your campus that need a secular perspective and offer to represent a secular, non-religious viewpoint
 - Advocate for the secular viewpoint with your student government
 - Write op-eds and letters to the editor in your school paper
 - Reach out to your office of diversity and inclusion and ask them about what they're doing to engage non-religious students as a group,
 - Engage with the office of religious life and offer to represent a secular humanist perspective,
 - Speak up when the non-religious are left out by writing and speaking to school administration or student government, reminding them that 40% of college aged Americans are non-religious.
 - Host a speaker on your campus in partnerships with other student organizations.

Apply today to let us know you'd like to be a Secular Ambassador and receive one-on-one support from one of our campus organizers. Over time you may discover that there are more secular students on your campus than you realized and decide to start an SSA chapter. We can help you with that, too!
